

Dear Parents:

The Wilson School has an on-going marketing program that involves different forms of media, such as, newspapers, magazines, our admission information packet, our website, etc. When we release photographs of students, the photos are usually of a group of students and the students are not usually identified by name. The only time that names would be printed is in a specific press release, for example, the winners of the Presidential Fitness Awards, or eighth grade graduates.

As a policy, the School will not use your child's name and/or photograph in our marketing program unless we receive your specific permission.

Please complete the form below and return by the first day of school.
